

Sinclair Broadcasting's use of the public airwaves is free of charge, and they are therefore obligated by law to serve the public interest.

Sinclair's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of partisan abuse of their power.

Instead of something produced at "News Central" far away, it's more important that we see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
